Academic Research Assistant (Freelance) (m/w/d)

- Leipzig / Remote

Are you a master's student with a passion for impact economy and sustainability? Do you possess strong academic research skills and excellent English and German language proficiency? If so, we have an exciting freelance opportunity for you!

Requirements:

- Genuine interest in making a positive impact on society and contributing to sustainable development.
- Current enrollment in a master's program with a focus on sustainability, economics, politics, sociology or related fields.
- Proficiency in both English and German, with excellent written and verbal communication skills.
- Strong academic research abilities, including literature review, data analysis, and report writing.

Responsibilities:

- Conducting comprehensive academic research on topics related to impact economy, future trends, politics and sustainability.
- Assisting in data collection, analysis, and interpretation.
- Collaborating with our team to identify relevant research areas.
- Preparing clear and concise research reports and summaries.
- Communicating research findings effectively to team members.

Duration and Remuneration:

This is a freelance-based position, allowing you to work on a flexible schedule that fits your academic commitments. The duration of the assignment will be project-based, with the potential for ongoing collaboration. Remuneration will be based on a per-project or hourly basis, offering a fair compensation for your valuable contributions.
